10 October 2024

Dear Unitholders,

We, as the Manager of the Trust and each Fund, are writing to inform you of the following changes.

1. Change in investment strategy of ChinaAMC China Focus Fund

In respect of the ChinaAMC China Focus Fund (the “China Focus Fund”), currently, the Manager may invest up to 10% of the China Focus Fund’s portfolio in physical A Share ETFs and/or synthetic A Share ETFs.

From 11 November 2024 (the “Effective Date”), in addition to physical A Share ETFs and/or synthetic A Share ETFs, the Manager may also invest up to 10% of the China Focus Fund’s Net Asset Value in one or more spot bitcoin ETFs and/or spot ether ETFs listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited or any other stock exchanges (such as the NASDAQ Stock Market in the United States) (the “Change”).

To clarify, the China Focus Fund will not hold more than 10% of any units, shares or interests issued by any single ETF. Investment ETFs are considered as investments in equity securities for the purposes of and subject to the requirements in 7.1, 7.1A and 7.2 of the Code.

Reason for the Change

The reason for the Change is to provide the Manager with a wider selection of investments in constructing the China Focus Fund’s portfolio, with an aim to achieving capital appreciation in pursuit of the China Focus Fund’s investment objective.

Risks associated with the Change

As a result of the Change, the China Focus Fund will be subject to additional risks associated with the underlying spot bitcoin ETFs and sport ether ETFs (each a “spot VA ETF”), as set out below:

- Risks related to bitcoin and ether: A spot VA ETF is directly exposed to the risks of bitcoin or ether through investment in bitcoin or ether. Bitcoin and ether are relatively new investments with limited history. They operate without central authority (such as a bank) and are not backed by any authorities, government or corporations. They are subject to unique and substantial risks, and historically have been subject to significant price volatility. The value of an investment in a spot VA ETF could decline significantly, including to zero, in a short period of time without warning.

The further development and acceptance of the bitcoin network or the Ethereum computer network, which is part of a new and rapidly changing industry, is subject to a variety of factors that are difficult to evaluate and unforeseeable. The slowing, stopping or reversing of the development or acceptance of the bitcoin network or the Ethereum computer network may adversely affect the price of bitcoin or ether (as the case may be), and therefore cause a spot VA ETF (and accordingly the China Focus Fund) to suffer losses.

The regulation of bitcoin, ether, digital assets and related products and services continues to evolve. There is a trend of increased regulations. Certain regulatory authorities have brought enforcement actions and issued advisories and rules relating to digital asset markets. Regulatory changes or actions may alter the nature of an investment in bitcoin or ether, or restrict the use and exchange of bitcoin or ether or the operations of the bitcoin network or the Ethereum computer network or the venues on which bitcoin or ether trades in a manner that adversely affects the price of bitcoin or ether. Bitcoin or ether market disruptions and resulting governmental interventions are unpredictable, and may make investment in bitcoin or ether illegal.

Bitcoin and ether may be subject to the risk of fraud, manipulation and security failure, and operational or other problems that impact the relevant virtual asset trading venues. In particular the network and entities that facilitate the transfer or trading of bitcoin or ether are vulnerable to various cyber-attacks. The occurrence of any of the above may have a negative impact on the price of bitcoin or ether and the value of a spot VA ETF.

- Risks related to virtual asset trading venues: Transactions of bitcoin or ether by a spot VA ETF (in case the spot VA ETF is listed on a stock exchange other than The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited) may be conducted through an unregulated trading venue and therefore prone to fraud and market manipulation. Over the past several years, a number of virtual asset trading venues have collapsed, ceased operations or shut down temporarily or permanently due to issues such as fraud, failure, security breaches, cybersecurity issues and market manipulation, and other virtual asset trading venues may in the future experience similar failures. In respect of spot VA ETFs that acquire or dispose of bitcoin or ether on a regulated trading venue, the relevant trading venue’s licence may also be revoked or terminated or otherwise invalidated and accordingly the spot VA ETFs may become unable to conduct trades in bitcoin or ether. The potential consequences of the failure of a virtual asset trading venue could adversely affect the value of bitcoin or ether and in turn the value of a spot VA ETF.
- Risks related to custody of virtual assets: The security procedure in place for the custody of bitcoin and ether may not be able to protect against all errors, software flaws or other vulnerabilities in a virtual asset custodian’s technical infrastructure, which could result in theft, loss or damage in a spot VA ETF’s assets.

The China Focus Fund will also be subject to other general risks associated with investment in underlying ETFs. Please refer to the updated Explanatory Memorandum which will be available on or around the Effective Date for further details on the risks associated with spot VA ETFs. Investors are urged to consider the risks of investment in the China Focus Fund.

Implications of the Change

The Change will not (i) amount to a material change to the China Focus Fund, (ii) result in any material change or increase in the overall risk profile of the China Focus Fund, and (iii) have a material adverse impact on the relevant Unitholders' rights or interests (including changes that may limit Unitholders' ability in exercising their rights).

2. Update of definition of "Business Day"

In light of the implementation of trading of Hong Kong securities and derivatives under severe weather conditions by the Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited with effect from 23 September 2024, the definition of "Business Day" in respect of each Fund for the purposes of the relevant Explanatory Memorandum will be updated on or around the Effective Date as follows:

Current Definition	Updated Definition

The above change in the definition of "Business Day" will not (i) amount to a material change to the Funds, (ii) result in any material change or increase in the overall risk profile of the Funds, and (iii) have a material adverse impact on the relevant Unitholders' rights or interests (including changes that may limit Unitholders ability in exercising their rights).

The definition of "Business Day" in the Trust Deed will also be amended on or around the Effective Date by way of a Supplemental Deed between the Manager and the Trustee as follows:

The Trustee does not have any objection to the aforementioned amendment to the Trust Deed.
