Investment involves risks, including the loss of principle you invested. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Before investing in the ChinaAMC Hang Seng TECH Index ETF (the "Fund"), investor should refer to the Fund's prospectus for details, including the risk factors. You should not make investment decision based on the information on this material alone. Please note:

- The Fund aims to provide investment result that, before fees and expenses, closely corresponds to the performance of the Hang Seng TECH Index (the "Index").
- The Fund is passively managed and the Manager will not have the discretion to adapt to market changes. Falls in the Index are expected to result in corresponding falls in the value of the Fund.
- The Fund's investment in equity securities is subject to general market risks, whose value may fluctuate due to various factors.
- The Index is a new index. The Fund may be riskier than those tracking more established indices with longer operating history.
- The Fund is subject to concentration risks in companies with technology theme and in a single geographical region (i.e. Greater China). The Fund may be more volatile than a broadly-based fund.
- Companies in the technology sector are characterised by relatively higher volatility in price performance when compared to other sectors.
- The Fund may be exposed to risks associated with different technology sectors and themes. A downturn in the business for companies in these sectors or themes may have adverse effects on the Fund.
- The Fund is subject to tracking error risk, which may result from the investment strategy used, and fees and expenses.
- If there is a suspension of the inter-counter transfer of units and/or any limitation on the level of services by brokers and CCASS participants, Unitholders will only be able to trade their units in one counter, which may inhibit or delay an investor dealing. The market price of units traded in each counter may deviate significantly.
- Generally, retail investors can only buy or sell units of the Fund on the SEHK. The trading price of the units on the SEHK is driven by market factors such as the demand and supply of the units. Therefore, the units may trade at a substantial premium or discount to the Fund's NAV.
