Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve long term return by investing primarily (i.e. not less than 70% of the net asset value of the Fund) in fixed income and debt instruments issued or guaranteed by issuers domiciled in Asia and whose predominant business, in the opinion of the Manager, will benefit from or is related to the economic growth in Asia.

The dividends were paid 100% out of distributable income at a pay-out ratio of 6.5% p.a. Dividend is not guaranteed and may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital. The annualized dividend yield is calculated based on the latest dividend distribution with dividend reinvested, and may be higher or lower than the actual annual dividend yield. Positive distribution yield does not imply positive return. Annualized dividend yield = [(1+distribution per unit/ex-dividend NAV)¹²]-1.

▲ Manager's Comment

In August, the global market opened higher and closed lower, and the market was worried about the stickiness of inflation in the service industry. Since the middle of the month, the Federal Reserve has continuously released hawkish signals, and at the end of the month, the central bank's annualization emphasized its determination to fight inflation. The U.S. bond yield curve rose sharply in the month as a whole, with the 2-year and 10-year yields both rising by more than 50bp in a single month, maintaining a deep inversion. Most of the global credit spreads narrowed first and then widened. Emerging markets outperformed the US dollar and outperformed Europe. Among them, Chinese capital performed relatively ahead. Investment grade continued to be well supported with the expansion of the Sino-US interest rate spread. High-yield real estate in the second half of month finally ushered in a rebound.

The portfolio uses the market rebound to gain an understanding of the bonds that have been deployed at the previous market lows, capture short-term transactions brought about by market fluctuations, and moderately increase short-duration and high-quality bonds that have underperformed since the beginning of the year. Still more cautious about the overall duration and credit duration of the portfolio.
