Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB, subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Manager's Comment

The market weakened again in September. U.S. inflation exceeded expectations again. The FOMC meeting raised interest rates by 75bp as expected, the Federal Reserve continued its hawkish remarks, the endpoint and duration of interest rate hikes were re-priced, and economic data showed that the U.S. is still far from entering a substantial recession. U.S. bond yields continued to rise sharply, with the 2-year bond rising 79bp in a single month. Under the influence of factors such as liquidity crunch, worsening geopolitical situation and the European energy crisis, risk aversion was strong, and credit spreads in most parts of the world widened. The high-yield sector relatively outperformed under the support of technical aspects, especially the real estate sector, turned down again.

Portfolio allocation: Control portfolio risk exposure in volatile markets, reduce the proportion of high-yield bonds, real estate industry and European positions, increase the proportion of high-quality assets and cash in the portfolio, and wait for market rebound or bargain hunting opportunities.
