Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The Investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve long term return by investing primarily (i.e. not less than 70% of the net asset value of the Fund) in fixed income and debt instruments issued or guaranteed by issuers domiciled in Asia and whose predominant business, in the opinion of the Manager, will benefit from or is related to the economic growth in Asia.

▲ Manager's Comment

In March, there was a significant turbulence in global markets, causing investors to worry about the impact of interest rate hikes on the financial system. The rapid bankruptcy of Silicon Valley Bank and the Credit Suisse incident further exacerbated market uncertainty. Central banks around the world responded quickly by taking measures to help restore market confidence. At the FOMC meeting of the Federal Reserve, the Fed signalled that interest rate hikes were nearing an end, and US bond yields fell sharply throughout the month. In the credit bond market, the market focus was mainly on the European and American banking sectors, especially the Credit Suisse AT1 bonds whose prices fell sharply due to the full write-down. In contrast, investment-grade Chinese dollar bonds performed relatively steadily, while the real estate sector experienced a further decline due to individual credit events. To capture investment opportunities brought about by market volatility in Europe and the United States, investors adopted some strategies, such as bottom-fishing for high-quality bank bonds and partially profiting at the end of the month, and further optimizing their high-yield bond holdings. Faced with market uncertainty, investors maintained a cautious and diversified investment strategy towards credit risk.
