Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The Investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve long term return by investing primarily (i.e. not less than 70% of the net asset value of the Fund) in fixed income and debt instruments issued or guaranteed by issuers domiciled in Asia and whose predominant business, in the opinion of the Manager, will benefit from or is related to the economic growth in Asia.

▲ Manager's Comment

In August, the financial markets experienced high volatility. In the first half of the month, strong economic data from the United States and rising US bond yields, with the 10-year yield reaching its highest point since 2008, set the tone. Against the backdrop of the Federal Reserve Chairman Powell emphasizing their commitment to combat inflation and the delay in interest rate cuts, risk sentiment was somewhat subdued. However, there was some recovery towards the end of the month. The US economy showed clearer signs of strength compared to China and Europe, with the US dollar and energy outperforming stocks and bonds. In the credit bond market, there was initial suppression followed by a rebound. Most investment-grade bonds maintained relatively stable credit spreads. However, the continuous decline in sales and further default risks for Chinese companies led to a continued decline in the Chinese real estate sector. The fund continued to underweight the real estate sector and switched to Asian non-real estate high-yield bonds to diversify industry risk and maintain a cautious approach to overall duration, controlling portfolio volatility.
