Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The Investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve long term return by investing primarily (i.e. not less than 70% of the net asset value of the Fund) in fixed income and debt instruments issued or guaranteed by issuers domiciled in Asia and whose predominant business, in the opinion of the Manager, will benefit from or is related to the economic growth in Asia.

▲ Manager's Comment

In December, with the backdrop of interest rate cuts, risk assets continued to rise. The unexpected shift to a dovish stance by the Federal Reserve further pushed down the starting point for interest rate pricing. US bond yields further declined, and global credit spreads narrowed to the lowest point of the year. The global investment-grade credit index rose by 100% in the last two months. The current risk premium on assets is extremely low, reflecting the market's relatively optimistic expectations for the economy and corporate earnings. In this context, there is a need to be relatively cautious about adjusting previous trading strategies, but the overall performance of fixed-income assets in the interest rate-cutting cycle is still expected to be positive for the year. In the face of the potential long-term downturn in the real estate industry, it is advisable to reduce exposure to Chinese real estate and supplement the portfolio with high-quality, long-duration Chinese state-owned enterprise bonds to enhance the overall quality of the portfolio. Optimizing portfolio holdings and preparing to capture investment opportunities in the new year.
