Fund Factsheet

As of 30 Jun 2022

37/F, Bank of China Tower, 1 Garden Road, Hong Kong

Investment involves risks, including the loss of principal. The price of units or shares of the Funds may go up as well as down. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The value of the Funds can be extremely volatile and could go down substantially within a short period of time. You should read the Fund's Placing Memorandum or Explanatory Memorandum and Product Key Facts Statement for details, including risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Please note:

- The investment in debt instruments involves volatility and liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, credit rating risk, valuation risk, downgrade risk and sovereign debt risk. Fixed income and debt instruments which are below investment grade or unrated are subject to lower liquidity, higher volatility, higher credit risk and greater risk of loss of principal and interest than more highly-rated debt instruments.
- Investments in Asian (such as the PRC) market involves concentration risk. The Fund is likely to be more volatile than a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments and its value may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the Asian market.
- Investments in emerging market involves increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree volatility.
- Some classes of the Fund are denominated and settled in RMB; subscription and redemption must be made in RMB. RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and restrictions. There is no guarantee that RMB will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investors' investments in the Fund. Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
- In respect of the distribution units for the Fund, the Manager currently intends to make monthly dividend distribution. Distribution may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of a unitholder's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment, which may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per unit.

▲ Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to achieve long term return by investing primarily (i.e. not less than 70% of the net asset value of the Fund) in fixed income and debt instruments issued or guaranteed by issuers domiciled in Asia and whose predominant business, in the opinion of the Manager, will benefit from or is related to the economic growth in Asia.

The dividends were paid 100% out of distributable income at a pay-out ratio of 6.5% p.a. Dividend is not guaranteed and may be paid out of capital or effectively paid out of capital. The annualized dividend yield is calculated based on the latest dividend distribution with dividend reinvested, and may be higher or lower than the actual annual dividend yield. Positive distribution yield does not imply positive return. Annualized dividend yield = [(1+distribution per unit/ex-dividend NAV)<sup>12</sup>]-1.

▲ Portfolio Allocation

▲ Manager's Comment

In the face of high inflation, the Federal Reserve frequently released hawkish remarks, and the yield of US bonds continued to rise, of which the 10-year bond rose by 60bp in a single month. In the global interest rate hike environment, the market has strong risk aversion, and most risk assets were generally hit hard in April. Among them, the Nasdaq hit the biggest monthly decline since the financial crisis, while the US dollar index has been rising all the way. In terms of US dollar bonds, while interest rates have risen, credit spreads in most regions and sectors in the world have also widened significantly within the month. Chinese dollar bonds have performed relatively well. Although the epidemic had a greater impact on mainland economic activities and affected the RMB exchange rate in the second half of the month, both the Chinese investment-grade spreads and the high-yield prices are still fluctuating in a range.

The GDP of the United States unexpectedly fell in the first quarter, and it is necessary to pay attention to the evolution of the FOMC meeting in the next three months on the rate hike and the reduction of the balance sheet, as well as the evolution of the situation in Russia and Ukraine. If the domestic epidemic is effectively controlled, we expect that Chinese-funded names will be relatively supported by certain fundamentals and technical aspects. In general, most assets are expected to remain under pressure under the U.S. interest rate hike cycle. We will control the duration, diversify country risks and relatively reduce exposure to emerging markets, and cautiously capture trading opportunities.

Position: Actively carry out interest rate hedging, increase short-duration investment-grade bond positions, reduce holdings of Chinese dollar bonds, and increase positions in Japan and India. The overall strategy is relatively defensive.
